

A Review of Your Day

Do you sometimes feel as I do that the day wound up being too short to accomplish all that you wished to do? Often, I have said to Kelly Wilcoxon, executive secretary in my office, "Well, it has been a busy day, but I didn't get done all that I had planned to do."

If that is the case for you, don't feel as if you are the Lone Ranger. With each day there likely remains a residue of things left undone, unsaid, unachieved or unconquered. Each day has its own measure of failure, its own degree of trouble, and its own lingering doubts. As Matthew 6:34 states, "Sufficient for the day is its own trouble."

As you conduct a full review of your day – the bad as well as the good – it may be helpful to recall these words by John Oxendale:

Who Set You There?

*Is your place a small place?
Tend it with care – He set you there.
Is your place a large place?
Guard it with care! – He set you there.
Whate'er your place, it is
Not yours alone, but His
Who set you there.*

You may not have been as successful today as you would have liked, but every day you are faithful to the Lord is a success for Him.

Remember the things He has promised, and that regardless of your performance today, as you give your whole heart to Him, He makes up the difference.

And that is a great reason to be encouraged.

--Beecher Hunter