

About Those Inheritances

A man named Henry was looking so glum and depressed that a friend asked, "Henry, what's the matter with you? You look like you've lost your last friend."

Henry responded, "What's the matter? I'll tell you. Remember two weeks ago, my Aunt Molly died and left me $50,000?"

His friend said, "Yes, I remember. What's so awful?"

"What's so awful, you ask! Remember last week, my Uncle David died and left me $100,000?"

His friend said he remembered that, too, and asked, "What's so bad about that?"

With a sad face, Henry answered, "What's bad about it? This week, I inherited nothing."

Now, before you chuckle at the story, or react with disdain to such a greedy, unthankful attitude, consider this:

The Lord gives us many gifts each day. We have many reasons to be joyful and pleased. Yet, many times some folks are not happy with what they have because they are disappointed that they do not have more.

So today, no matter what your circumstances, thank God for the blessings He is bestowing on you. It will make your outlook better.
