

Best Job on the Ship?

A sea captain and his chief engineer were at odds about whose job was the most vital on their ship. They decided that the best way to settle the question would be to exchange positions.

The captain went below deck to run the engine room, and the chief engineer climbed to the bridge and grabbed the wheel.

Several hours later, the captain appeared on deck, his clothes covered with oil and grease. "Chief," he yelled up to the bridge, as he swung a wrench in hand, "come down here. I can't make 'er go!"

"I know," yelled the chagrined chief engineer, "I've run 'er aground!"

The effectiveness of a skilled nursing center is dependent upon the cooperation of its staff members as each does what God has equipped him or her to do best. The center is a very complex organization, requiring skills at every position. When we work together in harmony, each respecting the other, it is amazing what can be accomplished.

What has God given you in His program of caring for His children? Stick to it. It's a job He intends just for you.

--Beecher Hunter