

In Tune With God

Some years ago, musicians noted that the errand boys in a certain part of London all whistled out of tune as they went about their work.

It was talked about, and someone suggested that it was because the bells of Westminster were slightly out of tune. Something had gone wrong with the chimes, and they were discordant. The boys did not know there was anything wrong with the peals, and quite unconsciously they had copied their pitch.

Referring to that incident, Dr. David Jeremiah, senior pastor of Shadow Mountain Community Church in El Cajon, Calif., writing in his book, Turning Points, noted: “We tend to copy the people with whom we associate; we borrow thoughts from the books we read and the programs to which we listen, almost without knowing it. God has given us His Word, which is the absolute pitch of life and living. If we learn to sing by it, we shall easily detect the false in all of the music of the world.

“Being in tune with God and fellow believers is the most beautiful music you can make,” Dr. Jeremiah added. When you find yourself out of tune, go back to the Word; and He will put a song in your heart.”

Associates in Life Care, Century Park and Life Care at Home see examples of this truth everyday in the work to which we are called. Those residents who have a positive outlook on life, who are cheerful as the day’s events and activities roll by, who form fast friendships, and who are happy despite their circumstances are those who are grounded in Scripture and heed its lessons. They are an absolute pleasure to be around.
