

She Was Wed 4 Times

The wisdom of our seniors is always to be admired. And sometimes it surfaces in a humorous fashion. Take the following story as an example:

A woman in her 80s made the evening news because she was getting married for the fourth time. The following day, she was being interviewed by a local television station, and the reporter inquired how it felt to be married again at that age. He also asked if she would share part of her previous experiences, since it seemed quite unique that her new husband was a funeral director.

After a short time to think, a smile came to her face and she proudly explained that she had first married a banker when she was in her 20s, in her 40s she married a circus ringmaster, and in her 60s she married a pastor; now in her 80s, she married a funeral director.

The amazed commentator asked her if there was a reason she had married men with such diverse careers.

Her face broke into a broad grin as she explained: "I married one for the money, two for the show, three to get ready, and four to go."

How do you top that story?

Perhaps it will lighten your day a bit as we settle in on another week of work.

--Beecher Hunter