

The Shortest Way

A London newspaper once offered a substantial cash prize for the best answer to this question: Which is the shortest way to London?

Out of many submissions, the answer that won the prize was this: The shortest way to London is good company.

What wisdom is contained in that response!

All travelers know how true that conclusion is. Good company shortens any journey, however long. When fellow travelers are thoughtful, respectful and engaging, time flies. Miles slip rapidly past, and the end is reached almost before one is aware of it.

With 225 skilled nursing facilities in 28 states, travel for Life Care is necessary, but good company always makes the trip enjoyable.

In the spiritual sense, the journey to heaven is very much shortened, the road made easier despite whatever difficulties may be encountered, for believers in Christ who have chosen Him as their traveling companion.

– Beecher Hunter